

Letter from the President

PETRO-TEC is an international petroleum consulting and training firm with offices in London and The United Arab Emirates (Ajman Free Zone); and representatives in many parts of the world.

Planning ahead to find today's solutions of tomorrow's problems is one of our distinctive specialties. This is achieved by our comprehensive training programmes which cover a range of topics perfectly tailored to answer the needs of the oil industry.

Our lecturers are distinguished by their significant academic merits and sound industrial experience. Their skills were revealed by many publications and training programmes presented worldwide.

Within this set of courses we are glad to present two packages. Our management package (PM1 – PM5) which is designed to equip the management and senior staff of companies, banks, and governmental establishments with state-of-the-art knowledge to face the business challenges. Our reservoir-engineering package (RE1 – RE9) is designed to provide the petroleum and reservoir engineers with the required technical skills to tackle a spectrum of studies from raw data to reservoir simulation.

In-house training in Dubai, London, or at client's premises can also be arranged giving special consideration to their topics of interest.

We are confident that our carefully planned courses will meet the training needs of your staff; and would be pleased to co-operate with you to achieve your training goals. Please remember to call us first for an immediate attention.

Dr. Omar B. Abu-elbashar,
Managing Director, PETRO-TEC
